

Internet Governance Forum

Twentieth Annual Meeting, 23-27 June 2025

Guidelines for Participation

A) Purpose of the IGF

1. The purpose of the IGF is to maximize the opportunity for an open and inclusive dialogue and the exchange of ideas on Internet governance (IG) related issues; create opportunities to share best practices and experiences; identify emerging issues and bring them to the attention of the relevant bodies and the general public; contributing to capacity building for Internet governance related issues.
2. The main aim of the IGF is to facilitate open and inclusive multi-stakeholder discussions on Internet governance-related issues that inform and contribute towards decision-making processes elsewhere.
3. UN Rules and Regulations, as well as the IGF Code of Conduct, are mandatory to be followed.

B) Conduct

4. All participants of the IGF must commit themselves to respecting all human rights as they are reflected in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.
5. All participants of the IGF must refrain from any conduct that goes against the fundamental rights of any person or group of persons.
6. All participants of the IGF must refrain from any kind of illegal activity.

C) Health requirements

7. All participants must comply with any additional health and safety protocols as outlined by the IGF Secretariat or the Host Country on the official IGF event websites.

D) Participation in the Twentieth Annual IGF Meeting

9. The Internet Governance Forum welcomes the participation of all stakeholders in the Internet governance ecosystem, including all entities accredited by the World Summit on the Information Society (WSIS), as well as other institutions and individuals with expertise, experience and interest in all matters related to Internet governance.
10. All IGF participants are expected to ensure a harassment-free experience for everyone, regardless of gender, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, or religion (or lack thereof). Any form of harassment will not be tolerated. Offensive language and imagery shall not be approved within any of the Forum's activities. Participants violating these rules may be sanctioned or expelled from the conference at the discretion of the organizers.
11. Participation in the Forum is free of charge, and participant status shall be provided to any individual who fulfils the requirements and agrees to adhere to the terms of these Guidelines.
12. Use and/or distribution of defamatory, abusive, profane, threatening, offensive, or illegal materials are strictly prohibited.

E) Publicity

14. Commercial media, logos, flags, banners or printed publications are not allowed.

F) Material Distribution and Demonstrations

15. Written materials and documentation can be distributed at the designated spaces. The distributed materials should be related to Internet governance and of non-commercial nature. The documents should follow UN guidelines on suitability and should not be blatantly inflammatory or potentially libellous, and the actions and arguments should be criticized based on their merits and not their source. As the IGF adheres to the generally used UN principle of discouraging ad-hominem attacks, organizations should refrain from singling out individual persons, companies, countries or entities in the materials they distribute. Concrete examples can be highlighted in the overall coverage of IG issues as long as it is not done in a blatantly inflammatory or potentially libellous way.
16. Participants are requested to refrain from distributing non-official material, such as information related to other meetings, future conferences or publicity material.

G) Hybrid Participation and Documentation Policy

16. The IGF meeting is hosted in a hybrid format, enabling both onsite and online participation. Details about sessions are made available on the IGF website as provided by session organizers. All programme sessions and related open events can be web-streamed and recorded, and session transcripts made available. Official photographs and videos are taken within the venue premises. Session reports are prepared by designated rapporteurs. These materials can be used as part of IGF outputs and to inform the community about the IGF and its related activities beyond the meeting dates.

H) Expulsion from the Conference

13. The Secretariat reserves the right to expel participants from the sessions due to disruptive behaviour or violation of the UN Rules and Regulations and the IGF Code of Conduct. The Secretariat reserves the right to define appropriate conference behaviour, in accordance with generally defined UN conference procedures, and is particularly sensitive to issues involving displays of disrespect to other participants or the conference staff.
